

Vaccination against COVID-19 protects you, your family and your community.

Quick and accessible vaccinations are available for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people via Aboriginal Medical Services, GPs and immunisation clinics.

Have a yarn to your doctor or health worker if you have any concerns about getting vaccinated.

Stay safe.

Check on family, friends and our elders.

Look after yourself too and seek help if you are feeling stressed or anxious.

We care about you.

Scan for info and resources

seaeagles.com.au/poche-indigenous-health